Hello! I have a vacation set with you and you've also needed to get my work info. I stayed to the last person i text that my daughter was in the hospital. We currently have some health situations and surgery is needed. Can I change my date and possibly do something in Florida or somewhere domestic? As far a jobs I am a stay at home mom and my husband is an Underwriter. Please let me know if I can switch my date and location. I just don't think we can make Feb work. Thanks and sorry for the late response. As I stated we have a lot going on health wise.
